Chi

An overelaborate refinement of non-alcoholic mixers

WHAT IS CHICHI?

ChiChi is an experience as much as it's a non-alcoholic mixer. ChiChi, which is meticulously crafted, adds a fresh perspective to your preferred beverage. The non-alcoholic mixers are made with carefully chosen combination of ingredients and are fortified with vitamins, so every drink not only pleases the taste buds but also provides nourishment for the body.

Regardless of your preference for a kick or not, ChiChi pairs well with any spirit/alcohol or can be enjoyed on its own. Because it is non-alcoholic, it offers a level of inclusivity and accessibility for all people, regardless of their preferred beverage.

The feeling ChiChi arouses with each drink is what really makes it unique. Every bottle is made with the goal of distributing love, warmth, and compassion. ChiChi strives to elevate the experience, fostering connections and memories that last long after the glass is empty, whether you're sipping a drink with your loved ones or spending time in solitude.

ChiChi is more than simply a non-alcoholic mixer, it's a catalyst for moments of joy, togetherness, and pure indulgence.

THE COMPETITION

All of the brands have a distinct visual identity and can be differentiated easily. The individual 700ml bottles of Seedlip are priced at $31.99 each, while a case of 6 bottles is priced at $150. Seedlip also offers a Cocktail Book for $20 and a Recipe Bundle for $99. A 500ml bottle of Ghia is priced at $38.00 on Amazon, with the product receiving an average rating of 4.7 out of 5 stars from customer reviews The 4-pack of 250ml cans of Owen's Grapefruit + Lime mixer is priced at $24.00 on Plum Market. While Ghia and Seedlip both have a decent website and rely on their website for the sales, Owen's mixers' website does not provide the same, instead gives the customer links to other websites like amazon.
